RIVAL CONJURORS.

A Magician Puzzling London.

For some time past we have been amused in London by the presence and ingenuity of two conjurors,—Dr. Lynn and Mr. Maskelyne. They outbid one another in marvels, and are found to occupy rooms side by side, at the Egyptian Hall, in Piccadilly. When one produced a box trick, the other came out with a basket trick. When one exposed the Davenport Brothers, the other ridiculed the pretensions of Miss Eva Fay. At last Dr. Lynn came out with a clever but ghastly trick of cutting a man's head off. But Mr. Maskelyne, not to be beaten, has invented a mechanical contrivance, called Psycho, which is a marvel among automata, and already the talk of all London. Psycho is a human figure resting on a square box or case, literally filled with clockwork and elaborate machinery, and this case, with the dummy figure or doll resting upon it, is placed in a glass cylinder in the centre of the stage. It is absolutely impossible that a man can be concealed under the figure to work it, as was the case with the once celebrated automatic chess-player. The box under Psycho is extremely small, and completely filled with machinery of an elaborate kind. But at the command of Mr. Maskelyne, Psycho adds figures together, multiplies, subtracts, and performs various astounding feats in mental arithmetic. He is also able to tell what cards have been subtracted from a pack by several people in the audience. But the most marvelous trick performed by Psycho consists of his playing a hand at whist with three gentlemen selected from the audience. When the cards are dealt, Psycho's cards are arranged in front of him on a semi-circular frame. The cards played are called out by Mr. Maskelyne, and, when Psycho's turn comes to play, the figure looks wise, turns his head, puts out his hand and selects the necessary card. He plays an excellent game, never revokes or makes a mistake, and the feat is rewarded with the most unbounded applause. Mechanicians are wild about the discovery, which reflects great credit on the ingenious skill of the inventor. Psycho was first introduced down at Sandringham, by express order and command of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales.—London Letter.

KANSAS.

Farming in the West—A Garden Spot.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

LOUISBURG, Miami County, Kansas, April 5, 1875.

This county (Miami) has perhaps been one of the most highly favored counties in the State. The grasshoppers did comparatively little injury; this being the eastern portion of the State the crops had, in a great measure, matured before they reached us. The drought, however, and chints-bug did incalculable damage, cutting down our corn crop from the average yield of forty and fifty to five, ten and in very few instances to twenty bushels per acre.

For the benefit of those who desire to come West, I will state that I followed farming some forty years, on the time-honored hills of Allegheny county, Penna., and this country is so much more easily farmed, and more productive than my native State, that I have no hesitancy whatever in investing in real estate. Improved farms can now be bought at least twenty-five per cent. cheaper in this county (Miami) than they could a few years ago.

Our little town, Louisburg, situated on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, is steadily improving and bids fair to be a place of considerable importance.

I shall not advise persons to locate here, but would invite them to examine the merits of this county before going farther west. Any additional information relative to this delightful farming country will be cheerfully accorded by addressing the subscriber, at Louisburg, Miami county, Kansas.

THE GALLOWS.

Michael Sullivan Hanged in New Jersey.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 9.—Michael Sullivan was hanged this morning for the murder of Samuel Talmage at Metuchew. At 10:56 Sullivan left his cell, accompanied by two clergymen, the sheriff, jailor and executioner. Two minutes afterwards, at the scaffold, these all bade Sullivan farewell, and one minute later the drop fell. After hanging until pronounced dead by the physicians, the body was cut down and handed over to an undertaker, who placed it in a hearse and drove to Rohway, followed through the streets of New Brunswick by a crowd of men, women and children. The father, mother, and sister of Sullivan called at the jail this morning to see him, but they were not permitted, by advice of the clergymen. Only a few persons were admitted to witness the execution.

A Wife Murderer Hanged in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, MO., April 9.—Patrick O'Shea, who stabbed his wife on the night of March 18th, 1874, from the effects of which she died five days later, was hanged in the jail yard between one and two o'clock to-day. He made a speech on the gallows, in which, while admitting he cut his wife, he insisted that his act was not willful, and that he did not commit murder. He charged Jno. Miller and Henry Norris with swearing falsely against him, and said Col. Normile, prosecuting attorney, and Judge Jones did not give him a fair trial. He was then led to the trap, the black cap and noose adjusted, and at precisely 1:50 o'clock the drop fell. His neck was broken and his struggles few, and at 2:05 the body was cut down and taken to the Coroner's office, when a post mortem examination was made. The culprit's manner, both before going to and while on the gallows, was remarkably cool and composed, not the slightest indication of agitation or fear being apparent.

UTAH.

The Polygamy Trial at Beaver—Judge Boreman Says "Bigamy is a Continuous Crime"—Extending the Utah Northern Railroad.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, April 9.—In the polygamy case now on trial at Beaver, Utah, Judge Boreman charges that polygamy committed prior to 1862 is punishable now, that bigamy is a continuous crime, and that the statute of limitation does not apply. This is directly opposite to the charge of Judge Emerson of this district.

The Utah Northern Railroad Company has determined to extend their road immediately thirty miles, adopting the route via Soda Springs, Utah.

THE MINERS' WAR.

The Troubles in Luzerne County.

An Investigation Ordered by the Governor—The Troops at Hazleton to be Withdrawn if Deemed Expedient—Strike in the Shamokin Region.

HARRISBURG, April 9.—The Governor after an interview with a committee from Hazleton, sent the following telegram:

"Wm. P. Kirkendale, sheriff of Luzerne county, Wilkesbarre, Pa.: A committee composed of Richard Williams, of Audenried; James Bryson, Sylvester Eagle, J. C. Fincher, and Charles Schuter, of Hazleton; Hugh McGarvey, of Beaver Meadow, and John Brady, of Harley, representing the citizens and miners, have to-day visited me, and represented that the reports about the alleged disturbances in the vicinity of Hazleton are exaggerated, and many of them false, and have delared that if the troops were withdrawn, they and other citizens and the miners' associations whom they represent will obligate themselves to keep the peace, that if necessary they will pledge themselves to supply 300 citizens to aid you in maintaining order if disturbances occur, and they, for the citizens, miners' benevolent and other associations, will enter into a solemn agreement that what is known as "dead work" at the mines will not be interfered with, and parties willing to do such work at said mines will not be prevented from so doing, I therefore ask that in the interest of law and order you will at once proceed to Hazleton and make a thorough investigation of the alleged disturbances and the disposition of the miners to preserve order, and if you are satisfied that such a disposition exists, that the gentlemen who to-day made the representation be able to keep with the miners the pledges they make for them, and that the citizens will aid you if there is any further turbulent demonstration, then, after these guarantees are solemnly made in writing, you will inform me, that the troops may be withdrawn.

(Signed.) "JOHN F. HARTRANFT, "Governor."

Sheriff Kirkendall at once replied that he would proceed to Hazleton to-morrow in compliance with the Governor's request. It is hoped the conference may lead to a solution of the troubles in the Luzerne region.

The Governor to-night directed the Adjutant General to proceed to Hazleton and be present at the conference.

POTTSVILLE, PA., April 9.—Trustworthy advices from Shamokin state that all the mines in that region, except a few at one colliery, are on a strike.

The third annual sale of short horn cattle from the Linwood yard, owned by James Kessinger, occurred to-day at Dexter Park. Among the sales the following were the most notable: Illustrious Third, to Frank H. Pearce & Son, of Tolula, Ills, $1,000; Third Lolan of Linwood, to Geo. In all thirty-seven cows were sold at an average price of $592, and four bulls averaging $715. The total amount of sales was $[illegible]665.

Election Troubles in South Chicago.

The town clerk of South Chicago this morning refused to sign the certificates of those candidates who were declared elected in the recent municipal election. He justified his refusal by stating that the illegalties on election day were carried to an extent which rendered them perfectly patent, and that repeating was openly practiced. The ballot boxes in the fourth and Fifth wards were, he says, stuffed with between 2,000 and 3,000 votes. He asked that the election be set aside for these reasons.

Removal of Cases from State to Federal Courts.

Judges Drummond and Blodget sat together to hear the arguments of Gen. Joseph E. McDonald and Henry Crawford, on a motion to remand the case of Stephen [illegible] good against the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes Railroad Co. to the Circuit Court of Will county. Mr. McDonald made the points that the act of Congress of March 5th, 1875, is a revision of former laws, and is the only act providing for the removal of a case from the State to the Federal Court; that to entitle removal of the suit must involve a controversy between citizens of different States, which can be fully determined by them is a cause in which the whole cause can be heard in the Federal Court; that the application must be made to the State Court, and must show on its face all the facts essential to the right of removal; that the order for removal in the Osgood case was made by the State Court, as a vacator, and is not valid.

At the conclusion of the arguments the Court took the matter under advisement, but from various intimations given by Judge Drummond during the hearing it is not considered that the former order of Judge Drummond will be reversed. Judge Blodget will in the meantime hear to-morrow the argument on the motions to appoint a receiver of the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes Railroad in the Federal Court, and to dismiss the receivers appointed by the State Court.

Vegetables for Family Use.

The long list of varieties of vegetable seeds presented in seedsmen's catalogues, is bewildering to most people; but after the list has been well sifted, it is found that few, comparatively, are of general use. Some varieties are almost exclusively grown by market gardeners and truck farmers, who require very prolific, large and showy vegetables, to catch the public eye, and to yield quick and large profits. For these results they sacrifice flavor and all other qualities. The private grower, desirous of affording the greatest amount of gustatory pleasure to the household, ought, on the contrary, to grow only the best quality. As it costs no more time and labor to grow choice, delicious vegetables than more common and coarser sorts, we propose to give a selection of the most approved varieties for the guidance of those who, as the season approaches, make up their supplies of seeds for the coming year. And first, in purchasing seeds, apply to the most reliable seedsmen, and avoid those generally sold at some stores, which, too frequently, are put up for sale only, without any reference either to the quality of the seed or the choiceness of the varieties. By quality we do not mean freshness or vitality. Few seedsmen in this country, be it said to their honor, sell old seeds as new. But no one engaged in the seed business can afford to sell cabbage-seed grown from pure selected heads, at the same price as he can that grown upon cabbage stalks from which the heads have been cut and marketed. Hence market gardeners will pay the seedsman from four to eight dollars per pound for cabbage-seed of the best and purest quality, while the common quality can be had for one dollar a pound. It makes a material difference whether we get ninety-nine good solid heads from a hundred plants, or only get twenty from the same number of plants—the yield we have often seen in country gardens. A quarter of a dollar additional per ounce can be no object if we thereby secure a full crop—the labor and cost of cultivation being the same.

The Difficulty Between Germany and Belgium.

GERMANY.

A Difficulty Settled.

BERLIN, April 9.—The difficulty between Germany and China relative to the plundering of the bark Prince Bismarck has been satisfactorily settled.

War or Peace.

LONDON, April 10.—The Berlin Post, reverting to the subject of its leading article yesterday, says: "As long as Count Andrassy remains in office the good understanding between the three Emperors will continue, and there need not be fear of immediate war."

The Belgian Difficulty.

The Cologne Gazette, commenting on the Belgian difficulty, remarks that "Belgium may have been encouraged in her denial of German demands by a neighboring power, whose able Minister of Foreign Affairs has certainly neglected no opportunity of opposing the interests of Germany. We hope this incident is finished, except in so far as it relates to the Duchesne investigation."

The London Times, reviewing the text of the German note to Belgium, says: "Our expectations were justified that fuller knowledge of the tenor of the German note would remove the more serious constructions which have been made of it. Germany remonstrates with Belgium, and makes recommendations beyond the bounds of good taste, but puts forth nothing which we are able fairly to call a threat. It is the interest of every free nation to protest against a claim that expressions of sympathy with any cause in a foreign country belong to the order of international wrong which the State is bound to restrain. The circumstance that neither party to the dispute has appealed to the powers guaranteeing Belgium independence, also somewhat dimishes the importance of the affair."

The Emperor Going to Italy.

The Berlin Post states that Prince Frederick William, accompanied by Generals Moltke, Blumenthal and Voight-Rhetz, leaves Berlin next Monday for Italy.

FRANCE.

Meeting of the Commission on the Centennial Exhibition.

PARIS, April 9.—The French Commission on the United States Centennial Exhibition met to-day, M. de Lafayette presiding. Minister Washburne and Messrs. Forney and Biddle were present. A letter was received from the Minister of Commerce, who says: "The French Government cannot remain indifferent to the grand solemnity at Philadelphia. My predecessor decided it was necessary for France to participate, because he was persuaded the exhibition would result in the development of French relations abroad. The Permanent Commission will soon be called upon to consider the best means of promoting French participation in the Centennial Exhibition."

Mr. Forney said he was in communication with the Duke De Cazes and the Viscount de Meaux on the subject.

The Miners' Troubles in Wales.

LONDON, April 10.—The coal masters of South Wales have agreed to stop the lock-out for a week and throw open the pits to miners, with a reduction of ten per cent. in the terms of labor; then, if work is not resumed, a further reduction will be demanded. The North Wales masters also insist on the ten per cent. reduction. They give their men a week to consider the question. If the terms are rejected, 15,000 men will be out on a strike.

MADRID, April 9.—The conflict between the Government and the University is becoming serious, and may cause the fall of the Ministry. Several more of the Professors were exiled to-day. The King's principal physician was offered the head position in the University, but refused to accept it.

CONCERNING OUR HEALTH.

March Mortality in the City.

The Board of Health was called to meet last night but it failed to do so, there being no quorum present.

The reports of the officers were ready to be submitted as follows:

Health-officer Gray reported 265 nuisances abated last month. The number of permits issued was forty-three. The receipts were $41.50 and the expenditures $5.55, leaving a balance on hand of $35.95.

The report of Dr. W. S. Snively, Physician to the Board, showed that the total number of deaths in the five weeks ending April 3d, 1875, was 291. The death rate was equivalent to 21.61 per 1,000 inhabitants, annually, being considerably below the mean rate for the year 1874. There were 93 deaths of infants under one year of age, and 55 of children under five years. The number of deaths of persons seventy years of age and upwards was 18. Consumption caused 39 deaths and acute affections of the respiratory organs 43, of which 33 were charged to pneumonia. The mortality from scarlet fever and diptheria is about equal to that of the previous month, while a considerable increase is noted in the mortality from typhoid fever and small pox. The mortuary report for March exhibits a diminution in the mortality of persons of advanced age, and a marked increase in the mortality of infants under one year of age. The total mortality during the winter quarter of 1875 was 818, against an average for the corresponding quarter of the previous two years of 732.

Matthews, who was charged with adultery some time ago before Alderman Kreuter, and which has already been mentioned in our columns, had a hearing before the magistrate yesterday, at the conclusion of which he was held to Court in the sum of $1,000. A large attendance of his race was present at the trial, and considerable interest was manifested.

Two performances will be given to-day, this afternoon and evening, at which "The Deluge" will be presented for the last time. A finer spectacular drama has not been produced in this city for many years, and it is wonderfully pretty to look upon. The artistic, graceful and difficult Terpsichorean feats of the Kiralfys, coupled with the astonishing performances of the Faust family, add very materially to the enjoyment and interest of the entertainment.

Next week John T. Raymond appears as Col. Mulberry Sellers in the "Gilded Age."

Girofle-Girofla.

A good sized audience greeted the new French Opera combination at the Academy of music last night. The opera presented, "Girofle-Girofla," is the latest and most popular composition of Charles Lecocq, the composer of the famous "La Fille de Madame Angot." When it was first produced in Paris it ran three hundred nights. Coralie Geoffroy, the prima donna who sang at the Academy last night, was the original Girofle-Girofla, and she was brought to America by Messrs. Grau and Chizzola expressly to sing in this opera, and she sang in it at the Park Theatre, New York, for fifty nights. She is, in many particulars, the superior of Aimee. She possesses a rich, full, powerful mezzo-soprano voice, and understands how to use it to most telling advantage. She acts, as the French would say, with considerable chic and abandon, and carries her audience with her. The encore that she received last night when she sang the drinking song, was a hearty and emphatic one, and she narrowly escaped a second one when she repeated the song. According to the plot of the opera, there is a Spanish nobleman, Don Bolero D'Alcarazos, the father of two lovely daughters, Girofle and Girofla, whom he has betrothed, the one to one of his creditors, a wealthy merchant named Marasquin, and the other to Mourzouk, the chief of a band of Moorish robbers, of whom he stands in great dread. The wedding morning arrives, and with it Marasquin, who departs for the church with his bride and the wedding party, and during their absence the other sister Girofla is stolen. Mlle. Geoffroy personates both the sisters. Next Mourzouk arrives upon the scene with a band of armed followers, and the old Don, fearing to tell him that his intended bride has been carried off, persuades his other daughter, who has by this time returned from her wedding, to take her sisters place and also marry the Moor. The curtain falls on the first act as the second bridal party are leaving for the church. In the second act, night time is approaching and the two bridegrooms are clamoring for their brides, but the old Don drugs them with wine and has them locked in their bed-rooms. Girofla also partakes of the wine, and introduces a brilliant drinking song. In the last act everything is straightened out, the lost daughter is ransomed and each bride-groom gets his bride. The piece is brimful of absurd and comical situations, and every actor in the troupe has played his or her part so often that nothing is lacking to make the fun complete. The role of Marasquin was designed by the composer for a tenor, and that of Mourzouk for a baritone, but as played by this troupe, a soprano, M'lle Minelli, takes the part of Marasquin, and a tenor, Mons. De Quercey, that of Mourzouk. They are both capital singers and actors, De Quercey possessing a very powerful resonant voice. There is a chorus in the first act that reminds one strongly of the "Conspirator's Chorus" in "La Fille De Madam Angot." The opera is studded with gems all through. Taken as a whole it is one of the best entertainments of the kind given in this city this winter. None of the operas given by the Aimee troupe were to be compared with it. The actress who appeared last night as Aurore, M'lle Kid, was here with the Aimee troupe, and was one of the most efficient members of it. The opera will be repeated at a matinee this afternoon, and to-night it will have its last representation in this city.

Trimble's Varieties.

The usual popular matinee will be given this afternoon, and the same bill to-night. Among the leading favorites are Mr. and Mrs. George Ware, assisted by their immense combination which includes the enjoyable Cool Burgess, Prof. Logrenia and his performing birds, George Kurtz, Nellie Brooks and a number of others.

Postponement of "The Octoroon."

The play of "The Octoroon," by the Franklin Literary Society, advertised to be given at the Academy of Music on Friday and Saturday evenings, has been postponed until nex Monday and Tuesday evenings. Tickets already sold will be good at that time.

The Tea Parties.

The last of the series of Tea Parties, in the interest of the Centennial, comes off at Library Hall this afternoon, at which the principal refreshment will be ice cream, and the chief amusement dancing.

Musical and Dramatic Notes.

THE new opera house in Paris cost $10,000,000.

BARNEY WILLIAMS is rich enough, and has canceled all his engagements.

MME. NILSSON is creating quite a sensation in the French provinces under Unmann's engagement.

THE last two performances of "The Deluge" will take place at the Opera House this afternoon and evening.

"GIROFLE-GIROFLA," Lecocq's most successful Opera Bouffe, will be performed this afternoon and evening at the Academy of Music.

NILSSON and Albani will be rivals in London, the former singing at her Majesty's and the latter at the Royal Italian Opera House. It is not difficult to guess the favorite.

"STANDING ROOM ONLY" will undoubtedly be conspicuously displayed at the Opera House next week, during the engagement of Mr. John T. Raymond as Colonel Mulberry Sellers. Those who desire eligible seats should therefore secure them in advance.

RISTORI married into a noble family of Italy, the Del Grillo. They gave her a coat of arms, wrapped in a few cobwebs, and she gave them a crown of laurel, besides other crowns—with neither cobs nor webs. Few are aware that she is a wealthy Hebrewess, rather appreciating money than otherwise.

PIKE'S Opera House, Cincinnati, will cease to be after the 15th inst., when it will be torn to pieces and the space converted into business offices. The heirs of the Pike estate have been forced to this step by the high rates put upon the whole building because of this opera hall. One per cent., and one and a half per cent. additional insurance is too much to pay, particularly since the hall is not used two nights in seven the year through.

E. H. WILSON, Esq., of Indiana county, is a candidate for nomination as State Treasurer. He has long been engaged in the business of banking, and is fully familiar with fiduciary business. Should he receive the nomination, he would bring to the duties of the position the necessary intelligence and experience for a first-class official. He is actively canvassing the State, and will be heard from, doubtless, in the Convention.

COMMEND us to Senator Gordon, of Georgia, as possessed of some sense. He declines to be placed on the Democratic ticket as a Vice Presidential candidate, believing it too early, as yet, to put an ex-rebel soldier on a national ticket. Yet this is the very thing the Democratic party is most anxious to do. They imagine that the very acme of political wisdom consists in patronizing the rebel element South, and despite Gordon and men of his stamp, we venture their candidate for the Vice Presidency will be a pardoned rebel.

COMPULSORY military service, in time of peace, may not be regarded as remarkably encouraging, considered as a feature of modern experience; yet England is driven to this exact necessity. A law is pending, and will soon be enacted, authorizing a conscription to fill the ranks of her army. Out of a population of 33,000,000 she is unable to maintain an army of 130,000 through voluntary enlistments. It is hard to say whether this is a compliment, or a reflection on her people. If they prefer the independence of private but laborious life, to the easier service and fewer privileges of the army, it is to their credit. If, having families, the people prefer to support them by productive toil, it is to their credit. But if idleness and beggary are indulged and even army life is shirked by a class of people who render no service in any other department of labor, not so much is to be said for those who do not enlist. England undoubtedly has a large list of persons, and it seems rather surprising that the glitter and ease of army life do not prove attractive and lead to the filling up of the ranks.

WITH to-day, the Centennial tea-party ends. It is safe to say that it has been an event that will be agreeably remembered, by all who have participated in it. In all important essentials, it was a fine success. The display of dress, representing styles and materials of the olden time, was all that could have been desired. The decorations were also tasteful, and all parts of the entertainment provided such as realized all the anticipations that were indulged. Of course there have been criticisms, as there always are when an event of notable importance transpires. It has been stated that the costumes were elaborate and costly, and that as much was spent on them as the entire affair realized. Also that the list of participants might have been enlarged. We do not join in these criticisms. If certain ladies chose to expend money in elaborate toilets, for an entertainment, that is their affair, and does not militate against the object aimed at. As we understand it, participation was voluntary, and hence there is no good reason why any should complain. Altogether, the party has been a success, and we compliment all engaged for the very pleasant character of the entertainment.

IT SEEMS hard to please the independents. Mr. Jewell discovered and set about correcting certain fraudulent practices, when lo! we are informed that it is not so meritorious on his part to have discovered, as it was vicious on the part of Mr. Cresswell to have overlooked those frauds. Whereupon we are informed Mr. Cresswell was connected with Grant's administration, and having thus gotten around to the right point, we have the usual sing-song of tirade about the faults and wrongs of Grant. The Philadelphia Times seems to be in full accord with the general brood of independents as to this form of distorted abuse. Why not be independent and manly enough to praise a good act without the inevitable sour grape accompaniment? If Mr. Cresswell did wrong, or failed in discovering what he should, was not sagacious and vigorous, let him be held accountable, even though being out of office it seems a little unkind to visit on him criticism for what he cannot amend. But when Mr. Jewell, or any other person does a praiseworthy act, why not say so, openly, manfully, and without crippling reservations? Were this done, when the independents do find occasion to criticise or condemn, they would be trusted farther. But now acting as they do, like Democratic sheets of the worst type, they are naturally accepted for what they are.

THE New York Bulletin, referring to the different labor perplexities in this State, estimates that not less than $200,000,000 and 40,000 people are unemployed in the Schuylkill region alone. As to the State generally, it roughly estimates that 100,000 persons and nearly $500,000,000 of capital are idle, including what are involved in the iron strikes in this city. Speaking of the losses involved, the Bulletin says: "It is impossible to calculate this loss in all its ramifications, but it daily equals a magnificent fortune worse than thrown away. To gain some conception of the aggregate amount, we have only to multiply the 100,000 persons by what would be their average wages—say $2 per day—and we have a loss on the laborers' part of $200,000 per day. On the part of capitalists we have to compute the interest on the money invested, not calculating for any deterioration of works and material by disuse. Here we have, at six per cent. interest for the working days of the year, over $75,000 per day. These figures clearly show upon whom the great bulk of the loss falls. The weaker and less able party—the workingmen—are thus losing $8 to every $3 entailed upon the employer class. The workingmen may well be asked, does this pay?"

COLONEL FORNEY writes of the powerful hold Garibaldi has, not merely on the confidence and friendship of the poor in Rome, but of financiers, statesmen and rulers as well, in all Europe. A radical in attitude, he is really a man of practical common sense, full of acceptable ideas, and now especially earnest in promoting his project to make Rome a port of entry. It is rather remarkable the hold he has on the popular good will. To all parties he comes with sound, and sensible, but not remarkable advice. In an address to the laboring classes of Rome, on the occasion of an enthusiastic reception, he urged them to teach their children trades.—sensible, but not very palatable advice. So, untouched by the blandishments, and unaffected by the artistic but impractical spirit that seems to pervade Rome,—a lethargic worship of old time symbols and relics, he looks, with practical eye on the immediate needs of the city, and proposes changes which will revolutionize its prospects. Yet it seems strange that any engineer had not thought of a plan, similar to that broached by Garibaldi, long ago. It is simple, feasible, and not very costly. It is believed it will add to the value of property enough to pay its cost. His suggestion has the merit of being timely.

THE loss of the bill, containing the appropriation for Dixmont Insane Asylum, is chargeable, distinctly and directly, on the Democratic officials of the House at Harrisburg. The bill passed the Senate, with an amendment that necessitated its return to the House for concurrence. As a consequence of lack of attention or ability, it was utterly lost sight of, and the appropriation is thus lost. As a result, a deserving charity must either borrow funds, and pay interest, or abandon its charitable features. In either event it is a serious hardship. On one side, the institution must pay interest for what it ought to have without such payment. On the other, the poor patients will be either driven out, or the county will be subjected to extra cost. All this, beside the perplexity and trouble that must, of necessity, attend the regulation of the affair. In all the years during which the Republicans were in power in both branches of the Legislature, we never knew of such a stupid and disgraceful blunder. It is quite certain that in some form it will cost the county a considerable sum; and it is equally certain that it is entirely chargeable to the stupidity of the Democratic House. What is to be thought of a party that will oppress even lunatics?

A LESSON WORTH HEEDING.

So it turns out that the Democracy perpetrated frauds in Connecticut, to swell their vote, and the Republicans lacked organization. Such is Mr. Starkweather's explanation, and it bears every mark of plausibility. The Republicans fell into the goody-goody idea, so often advanced, which is horrified at political leadership, and thinks we have only to nominate good men, and trust to Providence and the moral weight of the nomination for victory. This is very pretty, considered as theory, but it will not work successful results. Hawley's, for example, was a high-toned nomination. He had kicked up his heels at the Force bill, snuffed the independence that was floating around in Washington last Winter, and disposed himself betwixt and between, as a fast and loose party man of unusually bright moral principles. If any one could get through on a record of that kind, it was Hawley. He failed; and why? The Administration "knifed" him, say some. Not so. He had illustrated his lack of adherence to organization, and hence it was absurd to expect the party rules to be very closely observed toward him. As a consequence the door was thrown wide open. Party discipline could not be maintained among Republicans, because the leader had not held himself amenable to discipline; and thus, never voted as they preferred, with little reference to the party lines, so far as he is concerned.

In such a state of things, there was every inducement to the Democracy to perpetrate a series of frauds, that they might thus capture the offices, and gain the moral strength attendant upon signal victory. As a rule it does not require much temptation to induce the Democratic party to perpetrate frauds. The coffee-pot business, and the soldier voting frauds in 1862, are proof of this. But when they see Republicans disorganized, careless, lacking in vigorous and astute leadership, and not likely to quickly suspect or closely investigate the tactics of their opponents, they turn their ready hands to any fraud that may promise success. Thus in Connecticut they swelled a legitimate victory by illegitimate means. There is every reason for believing, that had the Republicans been fairly organized in Connecticut, so that the movements of the opposition would be closely watched, and its own party lines carefully drawn, we might have triumphed rather than have been defeated in the recent election. Such an organization would have closely calculated, and certainly utilized our vote, and at the same time would have left no uncertain spaces to be filled in with fraudulent Democratic votes. Lack of organization not only demoralizes the party that permits it, but encourages the fraudulent prosperity of the opposite party.

To apply. In this State, we allowed ourselves to be generally demoralized last Fall. No matter just how or why this was done,—it exhibited itself in a falling off in party discipline. The result we certainly appreciate. Already the movements preliminary to another great canvass are being made. Our State will be, really, the one in which the preliminary battle of the Presidential struggle must be fought. The surroundings favor us, if we are true to ourselves. The Democracy have used the power given them last Fall in a manner seriously detrimental to the welfare, and honor of the State. This fact is so clearly comprehended, and the dissatisfaction of the people is so positive and well-defined, that we have only to be in a proper position to avail ourselves of the prevailing feeling to achieve a grand success. With Governor Hartranft as a candidate for re-election, and a suitable candidate for State Treasurer, we will have all the conditions essential to success in that direction. Thus we will simply need organization, in addition to suitable nominations for local offices. So far as this county is concerned, we hear of an excellent class of candidates offering, and we can hardly go astray in making selection among them. We will, therefore, have a ticket, and general surroundings favorable to the results we seek.

The essential to be thought of, therefore, is organization. And because of this necessity, we incline to think it important that the Primaries and a regular Convention should be held at an early date. We have no immediate or direct motive in suggesting this; but a double difficulty evidently stares our County Committee in the face. If it selects delegates to the State Convention, while it will not transcend its power, it may give rise to some dissatisfaction. It is a point that should be carefully and cautiously canvassed before action is taken. On the other hand, if the Primaries and a Convention are held early enough to select delegates to the State Convention, we must nominate the County ticket by the middle of May, or hold two sets of Primaries and Conventions. We have no special interest to subserve in urging either form of action, and are not sufficiently clear as to the influence of either on the party to decide. We mention the subject that it may be carefully considered by the Committee. We fully believe, however, that the Committee should be largely changed before the active canvass is entered into, because of its lack of harmony and want of success last year. It may not be blameworthy,—but it was unfortunate. Hence the necessity for changes. We need,—and that soon,—a thorough reorganization, with a view to vigorous, effective, and successful work.

EXTERMINATING RATS.

An Unsuccessful Experience.

My house had been infested with rats all winter, and as setting traps for them did no good, I got Smiley, the sexton at our church, to lend me his dog for two or three days, so that he might help me to abate the nuisance. We put the animal in the cellar and he inaugurated his reign by howling all night. In the morning, when the servant girl descended to get coal for the kitchen fire, the dog bit her in the leg. For two days nobody dared to go into the cellar, and Smiley couldn't come to our assistance, for he had gone up to the city. On the third day the dog bolted up stairs and out into the yard, where he encountered the slop man and removed a mouthful of trowsers and red flannel drawers from the leg of that worthy person. Finding the back window in the parlor open, he jumped in and assumed control of that apartment and the hall. For three days we had to go in and out through the kitchen. I tried to dislodge him with a clothes prop, but I only succeeded in knocking two costly vases off of the mantel-piece, and the dog became so excited and threatening that I shut the door hurriedly and went up stairs four steps at a time.

There were no rats in the parlor, and I cannot imagine why he wanted to stay there. But he did, and as Smiley remained away we couldn't dislodge him. On Thursday he smashed the mirror during an attempt to get up a fight with another dog that he thought he saw in there, and he clawed the sofa to rags. Every night he devoted his time to howling. On Saturday he had a fit in the hall and spoiled about eight square yards of Brussels carpet utterly. When he recovered he went back into the parlor. At last I borrowed Cooley's dog and sent him in to fight Smiley's dog out. It was an exhilarating contest. They fought on the chairs and sofas; they upset a table and smashed all the ornaments on it; they scattered blood and hair in blotches all over the carpet; they got entangled in one of the lace curtains and dragged it and the frame down with a clash, they scratched and bit and tore and frothed and yelled, and at last Cooley's dog gave in, put his tail between his legs and retreated, while Smiley's dog got on a sixty dollar Turkish rug so that he could bleed comfortably. It didn't seem to occur to him to go home, and Smiley was still out of town. The next day I loaded a shot-gun and determined to kill him at any sacrifice. I aimed carefully at him, but at the critical moment he dodged and two handfuls of bird shot went into the piano and tore it up badly. Then I tossed some poisoned meat at him, but he ate all around the poison and seemed to feel better after the meal than he had done for years. Finally Smiley came home, and he called to get his dog. He entered the parlor bravely and attempted to seize the animal, when it bit him. I was never so glad in my life. Then Smiley got mad, and grabbing the dog by the tail smashed him through my French glass window into the street. Then I was not so very glad. Then the dog went mad and a policeman killed him. The rats are in the house yet, and Smiley's dog cost me about $400. I am going to return to traps. It is cheaper, I think.—Max Adeler.

THE SULTAN'S GEMS.

Jewelry by the Bushel.

From a recent letter from Constantinople to the Providence Journal we quote: "The accounts which are given of the riches which are hoarded in the palace savor of the tales of the Arabian Nights. Beyond doubt a vast deal of wealth, in the form of diamonds and precious stones, is accumulated there. The ostentatious display by the Shah of Persia of his wealth in this direction, on the recent tour of visitation with which he favored Europe, is well known. Among a profusion of jewels on his person, he was accustomed to wear a cap heavily embroidered with diamonds and fastened at the front with a brilliant of enormous size. On the occasion when the Sultan was to receive him as his guests, the grand staircase and the corridor leading to the audience-room were, in anticipation of the arrival of the Shah, ordered to be laid with heavy Smyrna rugs studded all over with diamonds, emeralds and sapphires, so that the royal visitor was obliged to tread under his feet the evidences of greatness which he were on his head. The Sultan received him as he stepped upon the staircase, in a plain dress, wearing the usual simple fez of scarlet cloth, and without personal ornament of any kind. A neat bit of sarcasm for a barbarian. Any visitor at Constantinople can procure a firman from the Sublime Porte to visit the imperial treasure-house at the old Seraglio, where he will see more wealth in jewel-studded, trinkets, diamond-mounted sword-hilts, belts, scabbards, horse-furniture and caparisons, cups, vases, articles of Eastern workmanship, and single stones of immense value, that would buy the crown jewels in the Tower of London twice over. A specimen of the contents of this repository in the form of a golden throne set with precious stones, and which were formerly a present from Persia, is to be sent to our Centennial Exhibition. It was one of the contributions of Turkey to the Vienna Exposition. Just now it is the fashion for the women of the harem to make costly presents to the Sultan. These presents are usually something in the direction of the national armament. The mother of the Sultan, who seems to have a head for business, has the credit of inventing this substantial form of feminine blandishment. Some fine pieces of artillery have been thus contributed to wake up the royal favor."

Shakspeare and the Jews.

Mr. George Wilkes, in the last chapter of his essay on Shakspeare from an American point of view, has the following remarkable tribute to the Jews:

"Before closing this chapter I may add that there is another interior proof of Shakspeare's Romanism in the bitter hatred which he repeatedly exhibits to the Jews. This prejudice does not exist among Protestants; at any rate, not among the Protestants of the United States. On the contrary, the Jews mingle with us without any social disadvantage; and, for my own part, I have never heard of any historical, ethnological or moral reason why they suffer the least discount in any equitable estimation. They certainly are the purest race known to the world; and this purity could not have been preserved without great trials of character and great sacrifices. They are notoriously brave, for the proofs of their courage are stamped upon every age, from the battle-field to the prize ring; their women are proverbially virtuous and beautiful; an intense interior pride keeps them from ever billeting their poor upon any public charity, and the wonder is that under the excessive prejudice which the society of all Christian countries has unremittingly exercised against them they remain such useful, inoffensive, law-abiding citizens. The world is not at all indebted to William Shakspeare for what he has done to continue toward this narrow, grovelling and contemptible reflection upon the Jews, and, least of all, should he be respected for it in America. Less, than at any time, to-day. Prejudice is the very meanest item of slavery of the mind. One black, shrivelling blot has recently been excluded from the national conscience. Surely, there can be no excuse for allowing even a shadow of the either to remain."

One object of Mr. Wilkes' argument is to prove that Shakspeare was a Roman Catholic, and his treatment of the Jews, as represented in the character of Shylock, is cited as a proof. If this argument is true, that the plays have the internal evidence of Catholicism in their author, then the Baconian theory is disposed of, for Bacon is known to have been a Protestant.

FUNERALS.

Thoughts Worth Considering.

The ancient Scotchman who held weddings in small esteem as occasions of festivity, observing that for solid comfort there was nothing like a funeral, must have admitted, if he had a candid mind, that even funerals have their drawbacks. The inveterate funeral-goers sit in draughty carriages and catch cold. There has been a strange succession of deaths among old people lately. Perhaps funeral-going has had something to do with it. Mr. Greville's memoirs mention that the Duke of York's funeral sent several people to their graves, and many others seriously ill. The attendance of one old man at the obsequies of another is to the undertaking eyes a gladsome shadow of coming events. It is time to inquire whether we do not sacrifice too much in our mode of paying respect to the dead. Can it really be that any one of us is anxious that numbers of his friends and acquaintances should, at great inconvenience and risk, sit an hour in a chilly church listening to the catalogue of his virtues, or follow his hearse? In most countries the attendance of friends and acquaintances at funerals has, except in the case of public men, fallen more and more into disuse, whilst the raising of memorials has become more and more customary. Instead of pompous obsequies it would be more sensible if the friends of the dead were considered to be discharging their social duty by contributing to a memorial and the friends of the bereaved by leaving cards of inquiry.

When this city was small the case was different. Funerals were less frequent, and men were all pretty well known to one another. Now people are continually expected to attend the burials of those with whom they have had no real intimacy, and it is becoming a tax on time as well as on health.

A remarkable meeting, attended by the Mayor and the leading clergy and gentlemen of the place, has been held at Adelaide, the capital of South Australia, with the view of abating the expense of funerals. There is ample room here for reform in that direction. In no other country in the world is there such a prodigious parade of crape. These dreary trappings are worn here twice as long as elsewhere, insomuch that there are families who scarcely know what it is to be out of mourning. At Adelaide it was proposed that crape badges should be substituted for the ponderous plumage so costly and cumbrous and in hot weather so annoying. We cannot conclude these observations without a reference to the absurd lengths to which the bouquet business also has been carried at funerals. Last year a lady placed six hundred dollars' worth of violets on the coffin of a relative, and other instances quite as extravagant are on record. The violet funeral thus becomes a pendent, in point of ostentation, to the diamond wedding.—N. Y. World.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, April 10, 1875.

The flow of business yesterday was active and our streets presented a busy appearance, as though prosperous days were again upon us. We have in all the general departments of business, a decided recovery since April began. But in distinctively financial circles no changes are specially to be noted. Our banks report an accumulation of funds, with but little demand in the way of loans. There has been, for a few days past, a moderately active business in mortgages, spare funds having been rather more liberally invested in that direction than has been usual, for a while past. There has also been an upward tendency in the price of local stocks. A report was put in circulation a few days since that Consolidated Gas stock could be had at $11 a share. Inquiry developed that the price stands at about $53 or $54 a share, at which price several considerable transactions have taken place, while there is a standing offer for the stock at that price.

Several of the New York papers of last Sunday announced in an authoritative sort of way that the gold clique had exploded, and that the effect of manipulation in the price of gold need not be feared any longer. They even went so far as to sum up the net result of the whole operation in estimates varying all the way from $75,000 profit to $100,000 loss, and profess to be so familiar with the details as to know that the clique at one time held $18,000,000 in gold, but assert that the whole of this gold has been sold out. Truly this appears like a principal story, when we consider that the total effect of this presumed breaking up of a powerful clique and the throwing upon the market the enormous sum of $18,000,000 of gold, has only had the insignificant effect of causing a decline of about 1½ per cent. We are inclined to the belief that either there was no such powerful clique, and that they never held the one quarter of $18,000,000 of gold or else that if they did they have not sold it. The decline in the price of gold has been too insignificant a result to indicate operations of the magnitude said to have taken place. We have from time to time in the last month or two pointed out legitimate causes for a rise in the price of gold. One of these is the decrease of cotton exports, which, as shown in our money article of yesterday, has resulted in a decrease of $6,000,000 of sterling exchange in the last two months as compared with the corresponding two months of last year. This, together with the small quantity and low prices of wheat exported in the first quarter of the current year, had caused an export of $16,286,346 of specie from the port of New York in the three months ending March 27, against $7,979,048 in the corresponding time of last year. This increased export of specie was of itself a sufficient cause for a large advance in the price.

—It is predicted in New York that the Summer travel to Europe will be larger than ever this Spring. While the steamship lines continue to increase, the travel increases in more than a proportionate ratio. The only exception to this was the trade last season, which was considered one of the worst seasons for the companies. There are now fourteen lines whose vessels ply between this port and various ports in Europe. The larger companies dispatch two vessels per week, "steamer-days," as a rule, being Wednesday and Saturday.

—Says the Philadelphia Ledger: The future of money and of business is more or less obscured. The signs of revival thus far have proved delusive, and lenders will perhaps hereafter prefer to wait for the reality than to encourage themselves with indications. Money is abundant, and the supply of good paper is entirely insufficient to furnish employment for it all.

—The Marquette (Mich.) Mining Journal says: "It is understood that the Cascade and Escanaba furnace companies, composed generally of the same stockholders, have agreed to compromise with their creditors upon the basis of sixty cents on the dollar, and that the proposition is likely to be accepted."

—A deputation of tea and coffee importers had an interview with the Canadian Minister of Finance, on Saturday, asking that retaliatory measures be adopted to meet the ten per cent. tax imposed by the American Government.

NEW YORK, April 9, 1875.

Money easy at 4@5; prime mercantile paper 5@7. Sterling was quiet at 485½ for sixty days and 489¼@489½ for sight. The dry goods imports for the week were $2,171,498. The customs receipts were $268,000. Gold opened at 115⅛, advanced to 115¼, and closed at 115. The carrying rates were 2 and 4 and flat. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $13,000. The clearings were $39,000,000. Government bonds were firm. State bonds were quiet. In the stock market to-day there was a further improvement, with a well distributed business. The advance in the share list was ⅛ to 1⅝ per cent., and the most marked was in Union Pacific, which rose from 71¼ to 72¾ on reports of an increase in the earnings for the first week in April. Pacific Mail was prominent, and ranged from 43 3-4 to 44⅜, with closing sales at 44. Committees of the Panama and Pacific Mail on the question of a new contract will meet to-morrow, and it is said that the negotiations are well advanced. St. Paul common rose from 39½ to 40⅛, and left off at 39 3-4. Lake Shore advanced from 74⅞ to 75⅛, reacted to 75, and finally recovered to 75¼. Western Union advanced from 78⅛ to 78⅞ on the announcement that the company had effected a working arrangement with the Southern Atlantic company. Then came a reaction to 77⅞ and a rally to 78¼. Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph declined from 27 to 26⅞, and afterwards rose to 27⅜, with a final close at 26⅞. The other changes were generally from ⅛ to ⅜ per cent., mostly on the upward turn. There was a very strong undertone to speculation throughout the day, and some good buying of stocks. The transactions aggregated 186,000 shares, of which 38,000 were Pacific Mail, 28,000 Western Union, 5,000 Northwest, 10,000 Rock Island, 10,000 St. Paul, 10,000 Erie, 38,000 Lake Shore, and 28,000 Union Pacific. Railroad bonds were firm in late dealings, with a good demand for Union Pacific firsts and sinking funds, which sold at 98⅝ and 92⅝@92¼ respectively. There were several round lots of Union Pacific sinking funds picked up for investment, and the bonds attract attention from the fact that they are well secured and bear 8 per cent. interest in currency.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 9, 1875.

There is no particular change in the business situation. Trade continues to move slowly, and the volume of business is perhaps as large as reasonably be expected, but the markets, as a rule, exhibit but little animation, and the long expected and much hoped for revival is still a thing of the future. As noted in our last, some of the leading articles have stiffened very materially, and during the past few days prices have advanced slightly, the most prominent of which are grain and its product.

APPLES—The market continues dull but unchanged; $1.50@2.50 ℔ bbl, as to quality and condition.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ℔ gal.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—2¾@3c ℔ lb.

BEANS—Continue dull; quotable, in a jobbing way, at $1.90@1.95 for mediums, and $2@2.10 for navies, as to quality.

BUTTER—The market continues quiet, and devoid of any new features worthy of notice; sales of extra prime to choice at 25@28, and there is not much inquiry for any other kind.

CRANBERRIES—$10@12 ℔ bbl.

CHEESE—There is a fair local trade, and the market is steady but unchanged; prime Ohio and Western, 16⅛@17; New York do, 17@17¼.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues quiet and unchanged; Apples, 7½@8½; Peaches, (halves) 8½@9½.

EGGS—Are coming in more freely and the market is weaker; quotable at 22@23.

FLOUR—Our dispatch from Chicago, under date of yesterday, reported an active demand and prices advanced, and New York was also reported firmer. Trade here, however, continues quiet and prices remain unchanged. We repeat former quotations: Spring wheat flours, $5.40@5.50 for Wisconsins and $5.75@6 for Minnesotas; winters, $5.65@5.85 for red, and $6@6.25 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $5.75@6.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade continues fair, that is, it is better than it was, although considerably short of what it should be and usually is at this particular time. Coffee, according to our latest advices, both from New York and Baltimore, is quiet but steady at a decline of one-fourth of a cent, gold. Sugars, Molasses, and Syrups very firm but unchanged.

GRAIN—The grain markets, especially Corn and Oats, continue very firm and considerably excited, and with very limited offerings and continued light receipts, prices are still tending upward. There is no Wheat offering, and, in the absence of sales, we omit quotations; there is this, however, it cannot now be laid down here at recent quoted rates. The Oat market is strong at quotations: 67@68 for mixed and 70 for white; some dealers have been buying and holding for some weeks past, and they can now realize a fair margin for profit. Nearly all kinds of grain have been selling below what they could be replaced at for a month or more past, and some of the wholesale dealers have been buying the most of their grain here in consequence, instead of ordering from the source of supply; in a word, they could buy it cheaper here than elsewhere, but that time is over for the present at least. Corn is also scarce and in demand; quotable, either ear or shelled, at 77@80, as to quality. Rye in light supply and firmer; $1.12@1.15.

HAY—Continues to come forward freely, and as the supply of baled is considerably in excess of present requirements, prices are weak but not quotably lower; prairie, $16@18; timothy, $18@21, as to quality.

HOMINY—$4.25@4.50 ℔ bbl.

ONIONS—$3.50@4.50 ℔ bbl, according to quality and condition. Onion Setts, $7@7.50 ℔ bu.

POTATOES—Continue to come forward freely, but with a steady demand there has been no accumulation as yet and prices are still maintained; $1.05@1.10 on track, and $1.15@1.20 from store, according to quality.

PROVISIONS—There has been no change in prices since the date of our last report, but the general tone and spirit of the market continues very firm and the tendency is still upward.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 9, 1875.

PIG IRON.

There has been no movement in this article since the date of our last weekly review, and, furthermore, it is not likely that there will be as long as the lock-out continues. Rumors have been current during the past few days that a number of mills contemplated starting up their puddling furnaces forthwith, but there is no foundation for them; manufacturers are fully as determined now as they were when the strike was first inaugurated, not to start up until the puddlers are satisfied to accept $4½, or manufactured iron appreciates sufficiently to enable them to pay the rate demanded by the puddlers. This is the real position of affairs here at the present time, and as long as it continues so, the operations in pig iron must, of necessity, be very small. Prices, however, are unchanged; No. 1 Foundry, $27@28, 4 mos; No. 2 do., $25@26; Gray Forge, $23@24; white and mottled, $20@22. Following sales were made:

MUCK BAR.

50 tons Muck Bar .... Private

BLOOMS.

40 tons Charcoal—Eastern .... $69 00 4 mos

ANTHRACITE.

20 tons No 2 Foundry .... $25 50 4 mos

BITUMINOUS COAL SMELTED FROM L. S. ORE.

20 tons No 1 Foundry	$26 00 4 mos
200 tons Gray Forge	24 00 4 mos
50 tons No 2 Foundry	25 00 4 mos
100 tons Gray Forge	24 00 4 mos
100 tons Gray Forge	24 00 4 mos

MANUFACTURED IRON AND NAILS.

The general position of the market for finished iron and nails has varied but little since the date of our last weekly review, and there are no new features deserving of special notice. Business, in consequence of the lock-out, is almost suspended; there are but few orders coming forward, and as trade has been unsatisfactory ever since the first of the year, and even before that, some manufacturers are indifferent now about starting up until fall.

SCRAP IRON.

The market for scrap continues quiet, and the general tone is weaker, as the demand is falling off; the chief inquiry now is for small lots to supply immediate wants, and No. 1 wrought, as compared with a month ago, is lower. Quotations, buying and selling, may be given as follows: No. 1 wrought, $30@35 ℔ ton; Car Wheels, $22@25; Car Axles, $40@45; Car Springs, $50@55; Light Scrap, $15@20.

MUCK BAR.

There is still considerable Muck Bar offering, but buyers here are becoming scarcer every week, and, in addition to being held at a price that the mills are unable to pay, it is not giving satisfaction in point of quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 9, 1875.

There was a firmer feeling in both Crude and Refined this P. M., and the indications are that a reaction has set in and that an upward turn in prices within the next twenty-four hours is not improbable. Barge oil was offered at $1.58@1.60 delivered here, during the day, but the scale having turned, it may be held higher to-morrow; however, as noted in our last report, our refiners regard this as a good time to buy the raw article, and a bad one to sell the product, and they have been acting, we have reason to believe, accordingly. Refined was more in demand this P. M., and firmer, and as compared with yesterday prices were a shade better: 11⅝ bid for spot, and 11½ for first half May, delivered at Connellsville depot.

There is no change to note in Barrels and no improvement in the demand; we continue to quote countries at $1.20 and city make at $1.30.

Philadelphia Grain Movement.

Since the opening of the Girard Elevator at Philadelphia, about four months ago, the elevator has handled about 2,000,000 bushels of grain. Five vessels have loaded there within the past two weeks, and seventeen others are waiting to load, making a total of 841,000 bushels for the spring movement thus far. On this point a Philadelphia exchange says:

"The foreign steamship lines are taxed to their full capacity, and were they able to offer increased facilities by an additional fleet of steamers the amount of grain which could be attracted here from the West would be enormously increased. The sailing tonnage trading to this port is rapidly increasing, and vessels are becoming assured that remunerative and desirable business constantly awaits them."

Seed Markets.

CHICAGO, April 8.—There was about the usual amount of business transacted in this market, and no particular change was established in prices, excepting for Clover, which was a shade higher. The supply was large, excepting of the above mentioned seed, which was scarce, particularly mammoth. Sales were made at $2@2.30 for common to good timothy, $2.35 for prime, and $2.45@2.50 for choice. Clover sold at $6.40@6.60 for prime medium and $7.10@7.30 for good to very choice mammoth. Flax quotable at $1.90@2 for good to prime crushing. There were quite a number of good lots of Hungarian offered at 90c, but these were dull; prime and choice sold at 98@$1. Millet quotable at $1.25@1.35 for good to choice.

Exports from New York.

The following table exhibits the exports from New York for the week ending April 7, as compared with last week and the corresponding week last year:

All sales and deliveries of grain during the winter months are made on the basis of 4c on winter storage, unless otherwise specified, and from April 1st to November 15th on the basis of 7c storage. Then all grain going into store is subject to 2c storage for the first twenty days and ½c for each additional ten days, or part thereof, regular receipts always to have five days to run when delivered. Winter storage begins on November 15th and expires on April 15th—all receipts dated on and after November 15th, and remaining in store on April 15th, without any further storage. As a consequence, all receipts now in store dated between November 15th and February 15th are subject to 4c per bushel storage. Holders and sellers of grain subject to this storage will be obliged to allow ½c on all deliveries between the 11th and 15th of April, inclusive; in order to make the receipts five days, to run ten, 4c storage. To make the winter receipts regular on the 16th instant, holders will allow an additional 2c to affect the accumulated storage, and as a consequence prices for regular receipts, and for the April option will advance 2c per bushel on that rate without any actual improvement in the market, the advance merely being the charging of from 4c to 2c storage.

J. KABERNAGLE, Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was 9 feet 9 inches, and falling. Weather threatened rain yesterday morning, but in the afternoon it cleared off again; a little rain would not be out of place, as the streets are becoming quite dusty.

THE towboat Ella arrived, and the Granite State departed.

THE towboat J. W. Garrett is en route for Wheeling with fifteen hundred tons of Merrimac ore.

THE steamer to be built for the machinery of the Belle Lee, at Metropolis, will not be called "Belle Lee."

CAPT R. C. GRAY, after spending several weeks at St. Louis, has returned, having reached here on Thursday night.

THE Rover and barges are filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will positively cut loose to-day, and shippers should bear this in mind.

CAPT. BART ABLE, a well known St. Louis boat man, is suffering from an attack of paralysis, but his physicians think he will recover.

THE R. W. Skillinger is due on Sunday night, and will take her departure for Ironton and all intermediate points on Tuesday at 4 P. M.

THE fine passenger steamer Exchange, Captain Shuman, with Messrs. Harbison and Dales in the office, will positively take her departure for Cincinnati to-day.

THE Ironsides left St. Louis on Wednesday for Pittsburgh with four hundred tons of miscellaneous freight in one barge, and four barges from Sulphur Springs of Pilot Knob ore—1,300 tons.

THERE was not a dollar of insurance on the Paragon in Pittsburgh; Cincinnati and Wheeling had it all, twenty thousand dollars. She was conceded to be, in all respects, the best freight steamer on the western waters.

IT was not Geo. McBride or Jim Dougherty of Louisville, who indulged in a cutting affray at Cairo on Tuesday. These gentlemen don't indulge in any such amusement, but attend to their business of piloting first-class tow-boats.

PILOT LEANDER PATTERSON, as we intimated some days ago he would, has appealed from the decision of the local inspectors of Cincinnati. Mr. Patterson has already presented the statement of his grounds for appeal to Supervising Inspector John S. Devinney.

IT is rumored that the mail service between Montana and St. Paul will be executed by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the Coulson line of steamers between Bismarck and Carroll, and the Diamond R freight line between Carroll and Helena. The Northern Pacific will be opened across Dakota on or before the 15th inst.

A SIOUX CITY paper of 4th says: Capt. Marsh came down from Yankton yesterday. He says the steamer Western had a very narrow escape from being torn from her moorings and sent adrift down the river when the ice began to move out there Friday evening. By good management, however, she was saved, and came out without a scratch.

THE following are the dimensions of the new steamer Fawn, just completed by the Louisville & Henderson Packet Company: 185 feet long, 34 feet beam, 4½ feet hold; engines, 5 feet stroke, 15 inches diameter, 3 boilers 24 feet long, 38 inches in diameter, 2 flues. Draws light 18 inches. She will be commanded by Capt. A. T. Gilmore, with Mr. Whitlow in the office.

THE St. Louis Democrat, of Tuesday, says:—Isaac M. Mason made a brilliant run as candidate for Wharf-master, being away ahead of his ticket, as was predicted. Hickey's apparent majority is only a matter of some three hundred, but as some rough work was carried on in the Ninth ward, in the Barrett and Hickey interest, Mr. Mason has determined to contest the validity of Hickey's claim. It is believed that if Captain Doyle hadn't been running, Mason's majority would have been very heavy. We hope Mr. Mason will contest to some purpose.

A ST. LOUIS special under date of 8th says The arrivals from the upper trades are bringing in considerable produce, but little of it is for reshipment South. The river is again rising. Commodore William F. Davidson, the newly elected President of the Keokuk Northern Line, took formal possession of the office to-day. He will at once reorganize the line, and try to make up for lost time. The boats will be selected and run through to St. Paul, carrying passengers only, and towing no barges. The heavy freight business will be done by tow-boats. Ansyl Phillips took the place of Capt. I. M. Mason as general freight agent here. Capt. Charles A. Spencerbox will be the company's agent at Chicago, and William Rhodes at St. Paul. Captain Mason was defeated for the Harbor Mastership by a small majority.

HOME NEWS.

Those of our subscribers who have changed their places of residence, will please leave word at this office, in order that the GAZETTE may follow them to their new homes.

Application to be Made for Pardon.

The friends of Mr. William H. Cluley, who was sentenced to the Penitentiary for a term of years, in the fall of 1874, for forgery, intend making application to the Board of Pardons which meets on the second Tuesday of May, for his release. The case referred to is no doubt familiar to the most of our readers, as it was fully reported at the time of the trial. The papers were being made out by the Clerk of the Quarter Sessions Court yesterday, and will be forwarded at no distant date.

City Printing.

The Printing Committee met yesterday afternoon, Mr. Seibert in the chair, for the purpose of awarding the contract for printing for the City Treasurer's office. The following bids were opened: B. Singerly, $153,-30; Stevenson & Foster, $331.25; Dickson & McKalip, $199.50; Herald Printing Co., $315.48. The contract was awarded to B. Singerly. The following bills were approved and ordered to be paid: Pittsburgh GAZETTE, $2,194.80. Best & Co., $127.75. Norton, $6.50.

"Regrets."

When the arrangements for the Centennial Tea Party were completed the President and Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Thurston, sent letters of invitation to several distinguished personages to be present. A few accepted the invitations and others sent letters of regret, some of which are given below. With the exception of those of the President and Governor, all the letters are autographs. The letters include one from President Grant, one from Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, Attorney General Williams, Chief Justice Agnew, Justice Mercur, of the Supreme Bench, Frederick Fraley, of the Centennial Commission, Judge McCandless, Governor Hartranft, Hon. D. J. Morrill, ex-Governor Wm. Bigler, and others.

The Estate of Thomas McClurg.

In the Orphans' Court yesterday Judge Hawkins delivered an opinion refusing to confirm the sale of a certain tract of land situated on the South Side, belonging to the estate of Thomas McClurg, deceased. It appears that in February last Mrs. Lizzie J. Lafferty and Mrs. Matilda Varner, devisees of the late Thomas McClurg, made application in this Court for a decree of sale of a certain portion of the property which had been willed to them by the decedent. The entire estate was worth about a quarter of a million of dollars, and the petition of these petitioners was two-thirds of the estate. The property, for which a decree of sale was asked, is the tract above referred to and contains about ninety acres.

The allegation of the petitioners was that the taxes on their property were in excess of the income; that they were likely to become greater on account of increased taxation, and the expense of opening streets, &c. The petition was granted and a decree of sale made. When the return of the sale was made, it appeared that the price was merely nominal, the property having been sold for about six thousand dollars, and that the object of the sale was merely to vest the devisees with a title freed from the restrictions imposed by the will of the decedent. After hearing the argument the Court refused to confirm the sale as stated.

MURRAY AND MEYERS.

A Certified Copy of the Court Record Forwarded to the Governor Yesterday.

It will be remembered that William Murray and Frederick Meyers were sentenced to be executed by Judge Ewing, sentence having been passed the third of this month, and as the law provides that a certified copy of the Court record shall be forwarded to the Governor of the Commonwealth within ten days after sentence is passed, the Clerk of the Quarter Sessions Court forwarded said record yesterday to the State Capitol. The law further provides that a writ of error must be taken out within twenty days after judgment has been rendered, and it is not known, as yet, what steps the counsel for the prisoners intend taking. If the case is carried to the Supreme Court, it will have to be done by the 23d inst. It is said one of the Attorneys for the prisoners inquired of the short-hand reporter yesterday for the testimony in the case, with a view to looking it over carefully, but what conclusion he may arrive at remains to be seen. At all events, if the Supreme Court is called upon to decide the points upon which there seems to be a slight difference of opinion, it is pretty generally conceded that it will not materially change the impending doom which is now hanging over the heads of the condemned men.

FOUNDRY ON FIRE.

Conflagration on Sandusky street, Allegheny. This Morning.

About a quarter past two o'clock this morning, Carlin's foundry and machine shop, on Sandusky street, just above Robinson street, Allegheny, caught fire, and before it was extinguished considerable damage was done. The flames must have made considerable progress before they were discovered, for when the engines arrived on the spot they had burst from the roof and were making sad havoc. The fire originated near the furnace and Mr. Carlin is of the opinion that incendiaries had a hand in it. The second story was filled with very valuable patterns, all of which were totally destroyed. As soon as the fire was discovered Officer Jerry Smith struck an alarm from box 35, at the corner of Federal street and Church avenue, and soon after a general alarm was turned in, bringing the entire fire department to the spot. All the engines did not immediately get to work, owing to the want of water, but as soon as they got to throwing streams the fire began to melt away, and by three o'clock its progress had been stopped. Mr. Carlin estimates his loss at between three and four thousand dollars, against which there is a partial insurance in home companies. The policeman who first saw the fire, it is said, had no key to the alarm boxes, and before he could strike an alarm, he had to rap for a brother officer who had a key.

ALLEGHENY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Annual Inspection—Condition of the Apparatus and Engine Houses.

At noon yesterday the members of the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose of Allegheny Councils met at the City Building for the purpose of making the usual annual inspection of the fire department. By invitation, the members of the Committee on City Property met at the same time, and accompanied them during the inspection. A large wagon belonging to the department, with several buggies, were used to convey the visitors to the different engine houses.

Shortly after twelve o'clock the party started for the Hope engine house, headed by Chief Engineer Crow. On arriving there a thorough examination of the apparatus, horses, furniture and building was made. As the engine horses belonging to this company were attached to the wagon used by the committee, it was agreed to not require the men to hitch up. From there the committee visited each of the engine houses in the city, finishing at the Allegheny Hose Company's house, on Hroy Hill, about six o'clock in the evening. In each house the same programme was gone through with; that is, the machinery, furniture, horses and buildings were examined thoroughly and the members of the companies required to hitch their horses to their engines and hose carriages as though to proceed to a fire. The time in which it required the different companies to hitch up and the men to get in their places, ready to drive out, after the first tap of the gongs was as follows:

General Grant—Hose carriage and engine both ready in 7 seconds.

Friendship—Hose carriage in 6 3-4 seconds and engine 7 seconds.

Good Will—Hose carriage in 8 seconds and engine in 9 seconds.

Lincoln—Hose carriage in 7 seconds and engine in 10 seconds.

Columbia—Hose carriage in 8 seconds. Engine and truck both in 9 seconds.

Ellsworth—Hose carriage 4 1-4 seconds.

Allegheny—Hose carriage in 7 1-4 seconds.

Hope—Not tested. Although the time varied a few seconds in the different engine houses, there was in reality no difference in the time of getting hitched up. The difference was caused by the horses in some of the engine houses having to run farther to get to their places than in others, and thus several seconds were consumed.

The manner in which the horses have been trained to run to their places on the sounding of the gongs, and the prompt manner in which the men hitched up and sprang to their respective places elicited loud praise from all who were present.

In regard to the condition in which the different houses with their furniture, fire, apparatus, &c., were kept by the different companies was highly commended.

In regard to the condition of the different buildings, it was found that those occupied by the General Grant and Good Will Companies were in need of some repairs, while those occupied by the Hope and Friendship Companies were found to be in a tumble-down condition and almost untenable, and not worth repairing, while the other buildings were all in good condition.

All those who took part in the inspection expressed themselves as being very well pleased with the condition of the department. It was decided to have the entire department called out as soon as all of the members of the department get their new uniforms and received by Councils.

It is perhaps but just to say that although the members of the department deserve credit for the manner in which they perform their duties, yet it is to Chief Engineer James E. Crow that the honor belongs of organizing and perfecting so systematically one of the most efficient departments of the kind in the country. It has been shown on more than one occasion, and especially on the fourth of last July, that he understands as well how to handle the department at a fire as to organize or control it at other times; and to him great credit is due for the efficiency of the department.

REV. JAMES MEECH, Rector of Christ Episcopal church, Allegheny City, has signalized this Easter time by paying off an old debt of $8,000. A subscription list was started ten days ago and at once filled up the required amount, with sums ranging from $1,500 down to $1. This leaves the church free of debt.

IN view of the 30th day of April being fixed upon as a day of Fasting and Prayer by the friends of temperance in England, the Woman's National Christian Union unite with them to observe the 30th of April as a day of humiliation, fasting and prayer, in behalf of temperance, and request all temperance societies to observe the day.

MINISTERS are requested to remember in their prayers at Sabbath morning services the effort that is now being made to establish a school for the benefit of our newsboys, and others who will attend at the Alliance Rooms on Sabbath, at 1:30 P. M. Miss Van Horn will take charge of the school to-morrow and the lesson will be the regular one from the Bereau services.

IF a common basis of agreement can be reached in New York, we can see no reason why the whole matter that has bothered every section of the country more or less, [the division of the common school fund] and involving the proper instruction of youth, could not be at least relieved of the disagreeable features which now encumber and oppress it.—Pittsburgh Catholic.

THE regular meeting of the Pittsburgh Sunday School Teachers Normal Class will be held in the Smithfield street M. E. Church next Tuesday evening—the leading topic to be discussed by Mr. Sidney Omohundro. The topic is "The Place and Purpose of the Sunday School, including the Mutual Relations of the Family and the Pulpit, and Social Meetings, and the School."

LET the truth and the whole truth be spoken with all fidelity, but always in love. The grand weapon of Christianity is the truth, and its spirit is love; not the truth apart from love, nor love divorced from the truth, but the two joined together; love giving grace and life to the truth, and the truth imparting strength and majesty to love. Christ has joined these two together, and no man may put them asunder.—Methodist Recorder.

BY the burning of the office of the Churchman, at Hartford, Connecticut, recently, the papers and six thousand copies of the journal of the last General Episcopal Convention were destroyed. By the fortunate circumstance, however, that, for the purpose of making an index, duplicate proofs are in the hands of the secretary, the Rev. Dr. Perry, the work will proceed again at once, but the issue will be delayed until late in the month of May.

SO, though it is impossible to hold a continual protracted meeting, other work may be made to take its place, as cottage prayer meetings, pastoral aid gatherings, visitations among the poor, secret prayer at some specified hour in behalf of special persons, etc., etc. All of these will serve to keep out the deadly damps recurring after church excitements. They will prove the sweet, constant, developing sunshine which is to follow the winter fires.—Methodist Recorder.

THIS is a pretty fair sample of some of the teaching in our Sabbath schools, and also at least a little of the preaching in our churches: "A Sunday School Superintendent, fearing his younger scholars might not understand the term 'missionaries,' explained that they were men who went about 'to propagate the Gospel.'" It makes one nervous to hear some people undertake to explain any thing, as they always leave it worse than they found it.—Presbyterian Banner.

RT. REV. BISHOP KERFOOT visited Little Washington last week, and on Wednesday and Thursday evenings delivered sermons in Trinity Episcopal church to large audiences, at the close of which he administered the rite of confirmation to twelve persons. Services were also held in the church Wednesday evening and Thursday morning, in which Rev. Dr. Smith, of Uniontown, and Rev. Mr. Hayden, of West Brownsville, participated, as also did Rev. Mr. Mendenhall, rector of the parish.

WHO ever hears a sermon nowadays on politics? Who ever preaches one? Very likely one reason why so little of it is done, is that it is hard to discuss political matters without being partizan. A minister must have his opinions, and when he preaches these opinions will appear. The result will be that they who do not agree with him will call him partizan, though it may be the farthest from his intention to so appear. But we think both in prayers and sermons, there is too little notice taken of public affairs.—United Presbyterian.

THE United Presbyterian says of one recently deceased who had many friends here: "Rev. Richard Gailey, father of Rev. Jno. Gailey, pastor of the Fourth Church, Pittsburgh, died at his residence, Lexington, Ohio, on Friday, 2d inst. Mr. Gailey was a man of remarkable decision of character, and as able as he was decided in his convictions. Much of his life-work has been in the higher range of education. Many of our young ministers began their classical studies in his academy. In this, as by preaching, he filled the measure of a useful life."

THE annual meeting of the teachers of the North avenue M. E. Sunday School was held last evening. After a little "tea drinking" the business exercises were held—reports being presented from all the officers showing a very favorable state of affairs; the election for officers resulted as follows: Superintendent, Jno. A. Scott; Assistant, W. B. Horner; Superintendents of Infant Room; the Misses M. F. Ackley, and Frank R. Graham; Secretaries, T. W. Pratt, Ross W. Drum; Treasurer, A. D. Sharpe; Librarian; Alfred Slack, Samuel Osbourne, Inglewood Forrest, M. Bocking, Farmer Ingham, J. M. Harr, James E. Stevenson, John Ramage; Postmasters, C. B. Carr, J. W. Riddle, Organist: C. B. Carr; Chorister, R. W. Drum.

THE CENTENNIAL TEA PARTY.

Another Brilliant Display at Library Hall Last Night—The Attendance Still Larger than on the Previous Evenings—A Few Additional Costumes—An old Relic Contributed by the Secretary of the State—The Affair Winds Up With a Dance—The Programme for To-day.

Library Hall was the center of attraction again last night, and the crowd at the Centennial Tea Party was even larger than on either of the previous evenings. The multitude that flocked thither was very large, and as it was well known that the last night of the entertainment had been reached, the time was well improved in promenading, conversation and general merriment. The tables of most of the States were greatly improved in appearance, New York, Virginia, Rhode Island, and a few others being vastly improved. South Carolina had the honor of entertaining General and Lady Washington last night, and the distinguished personages expressed themselves as highly pleased with the hospitality of the ladies representing the Palmetto State. A few additional costumes may be added to the list which we have already published, which are as follows:

Mrs. Max Moorhead, green silk petticoat, black velvet overdress, Duchess point lace, Martha Washington cap, and diamond jewelry.

Mrs. Robert McKnight, black silk petticoat, purple and black striped overdress, trimmed with thread lace, and Martha Washington cap.

Mrs. George F. McLeane, a very old drab quilted satin petticoat, crimson and black brocade overdress, and diamond jewelry.

Miss Mary L. Jackson, white satin petticoat, blue silk overskirt, trimmed with blue and white fringe, Martha Washington cap and diamond jewelry.

Mrs. Solomon Schoyer, black silk dress, trimmed with sprigs of flowers and old medallion jewelry.

Mrs. M. B. Suydan, black costume, Martha Washington cap and white kerchief.

There being such a great multiplicity of costumes in the hall it is possible we have omitted a few.

At one table it was noticed last night that if the change in the money basket did not count up quite fast enough, to place them among the leading ones as to amount of funds, a certain gentlemen had sufficient greenbacks to supply the deficiency and expended them freely.

The receipts of each table could not be accurately learned, but we give the amounts realized as near as could be ascertained, which are as follows: Maryland $235; Delaware $265; Pennsylvania $347; North Carolina $240; Virginia $325; New York $400; South Carolina $352; New Hampshire $238; Massachusetts $300; Vermont and Rhode Island $235; Connecticut $240; New Jersey $241; National table $855. The receipts at the door will foot up a large amount and the net proceeds of the entire affair will exceed the expectations of the most sanguine.

There was added to the curiosities in the Antiquity department, yesterday, a muster roll of the company commanded by the great-great grandfather of Mrs. J. E. B. Dalzell, who fought in the Revolutionary war, and was Captain in Atlees battalion of the Pennsylvania line. The roll was made out in the hand writing of the Captain, in the month of August, 1776. He was then sixty years old, but was active and a good soldier. The curiosity was contributed by Hon. M. S. Quay, Secretary of State.

At a quarter past eleven o'clock last night the orchestra struck up a waltz and a season of dancing followed, which was kept up until a late hour. At one o'clock to-day the hall will be cleared of all the tables except one or two ice cream stands and the dancing will commence in earnest, which will wind up the entire affair, which has been perhaps the most brilliant entertainment ever held in this city.

A New Candidate.

Among other events produced by the advent of Spring is the opening of a new, neat and fashionable Hat, Cap and Gents' Furnishing Goods Emporium at 99 Smithfield street, of which the Messrs. Sloan Brothers are the proprietors, and where is an excellent assortment of the best goods in this line, made by the most reputable manufactories of the East. No necessity now for ordering Fine Dress Shirts from the East and chance a fit, which is most likely to be a misfit, and pay fifty per cent. for the name of manufacture, since the Messrs. Sloan Brothers expect to make to order the best of fine dress shirts, of material equally as good, fit as perfect, and prices lower than eastern rates. There is comfort and satisfaction in dealing with men of sterling worth and accommodation, as are the Sloan Brothers, and it even becomes a duty to patronize business houses at home rather than those of foreign rivals. Go at once for fine goods to 99 Smithfield street.

Dresses One Hundred Years Old.

The dresses worn at the Centennial and said to be fifty and one hundred years old, evidence a sad decline in the quality of materials and manufactures of to-day, but one house we can name, viz.: The boot and shoe house of Wm. Martin, No. 108 Federal street, Allegheny, where material and manufacture will favorably compare with anything made under the old Constitution. There are parties who would pay three prices for his goods in preference to those of other makes, but this he does not require as he sells his goods at exceedingly low figures. His boots and shoes will not wear one hundred years, but you can wear them a long time and then keep them the balance of the time.

A Centenarian—Almost.

When a man has been engaged in the same business from time immemorial or beyond memory, it is a proof that his manufactures as well as his dealings have secured the confidence and respect of the public. Mr. Thomas Davage, of No. 57 First avenue, has continued in the manufacture of Blocks and Pumps for nearly a half century, and is widely known as a master workman in his line, which assures to parties in need of his goods, especially those having control of Steamboats and Railroads, that in the use of his Blocks and Pumps they will receive unbounded satisfaction. He makes the inside iron-strapped block, which is the perfection of blocks, promptly to order, of best material and at low figures.

No Such Word as—Misfit.

To those of our readers who desire to dress well we think it would be to their advantage to visit the establishment of Walter Anderson, Diamond Bank Building, corner of Fifth avenue and Liberty street. The goods on his tables show great taste and skill in selecting, every piece being new and fresh. With Mr. A.'s ability as a costumer combined with the skill of Mr. Kennedy, who as a cutter has no superior, such a thing as a misfit never occurs.

The Fire Marshal is investigating the recent fire at Griffin's store, on Beaver avenue, Allegheny. It is asserted that the fire was caused by the explosion of a gas pipe.

····The returns of the county officers for the month of March shows a net gain to the county of $4,263 87. ····A suit for damages was begun in the Common Pleas Court No. 2 yesterday, by Lewis Woods et ux., in the right of and for the use of the latter against Gottleib Miller. ····The alarm of fire shortly before nine o'clock last night, from box 14, was false. A man employed in an establishment on Fifth avenue, just below Wood street, happened to place his hand against a chimney, and finding it hot he at once went off half-cocked and excitedly rushing out, told a policeman to strike an alarm. It made Billy White awful mad.

····There was a spelling match on Thursday evening between representatives from Patton township, Allegheny county, and Bazail township, Westmoreland county, at the school house in the former district. Patton township won, having four standing when all its opponents were down. "Bombazine" is the word which caused the greatest slaughter on both sides.

····Some time yesterday morning a number (three or four) of insane women escaped from Claremont, and came down on an early train. One of them, Mary Miller, was arrested by Officer Marshall, on Ohio street, and placed in the Allegheny lock-up. She stated that her companions, whose names she would not give, had left after breakfast, and that she would like to go back. The rest are still at large.

····Lieutenant Johnson yesterday entered suit before Mayor McCarthy charging D. H. Fox, the man who did the shooting at Mrs. May's house, on Ferry street, on Thursday night, with felonious assault. F. C. Schrim is the man who received the bullet in his arm from Fox's pistol, and which was intended for Mrs. May. The prisoner was called up in the afternoon for a hearing, but he declined one and was committed for trial.

····There was a slight fire yesterday morning on the sky light of the photograph rooms of Bronson & Bingham, in Patterson's building, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street. It was extinguished with buckets of water. In the afternoon, about one o'clock, a lot of corn husks in the garret of Van Geister's grocery store, at the corner of Fifteenth and Carson streets, caught fire. In neither case did the damage amount to anything.

····A game at base ball will probably soon come off at Washington, Pa., between the College nine of that place and the Xanthas, of Allegheny city. The members of the latter club are as follows: Catcher, Frank Curry; pitcher, Joseph Hagan; short stop, Richard Lamont; first base, George Keenan; second base, James Sullivan; third base, Joseph Hart, of the old Iron City club; left field, Daniel Solar; right field, Robert Ross; center field, Charles Jackson.

····Now that the people will be taxed to pay five dollars instead of three for the patients who are in Dixmont, at the county's expense, the Taxpayers' Union should investigate the Leader office and ascertain if the proprietors of that paper are not able to pay the board of their wits in this institution, and relieve the county of this onerous tax. We have no objection to paying our share for one inmate from that concern, but when it comes to a dozen or so it is about time that the people should cry halt.

····We acknowledge the receipt of the Fifth Annual Report of the Board of Fire Commissioners of Pittsburgh, as prepared by the Secretary, Mr. Frank P. Case, and printed by Mr. James McMillen. We have heretofore given the substance of the report. It is a model in its preparation, giving all information in regard to the department succinctly and in the best manner, and it reflects great credit upon the Secretary. The printing is very handsome, the pamphlet being one of the neatest public documents we have ever seen.

····Last Thursday evening a pleasant hymeneal ceremony came off at the residence of Mr. John Donelson, No. 99 Boyle street, Allegheny. The principals were Miss Mary E. Morse, daughter of Mr. Donelson, and Mr. Samuel Steck, both of Allegheny. Rev. Dr. Baird performed the ceremony, which was followed by an elegant supper. The presents were very fine; among them was a beautiful set of China, the gift of the teachers and members of the bride's class in the South Common M. E. Sunday School. The happy pair commence housekeeping at Bellevue, and have the kindest wishes of their many friends that their matrimonial life may be filled with bliss supreme.

PERSONAL.

Senator Morton was at the Galt House, Louisville, Wednesday, returning to his home at Indianopolis, from New Orleans. He was visited by several gentlemen of the city, receiving them in the rooms of his friend, General James A. Ekin, of our county. Mrs. Morton accompanied the Senator.

A large and cultured audience assembled Thursday evening in the Wylie Avenue Church to listen to a lecture from the well-known orator, Dr. Prestley. His subject as announced was "The Bible and Modern Science." The subject was handled in the Doctor's able manner. Tyndall and others of that school were paid special attention to. All who heard it were unanimous in its praise, and felt that the Bible never received a more complete and overwhelming vindication.

What Fashion Dictates to be Done.

There is no evading the requirements of fashion, for the old maxim still holds true that "better out of the world than out of the fashion," and since this is the case, and since the times will not permit of experimenting with every Tom-Dick-and-Harry tailor, the better plan is to order suits to measure from an establishment of known reputation for fashionable and neat fitting suits. Such a one as that of Mr. James Bleakly, No. 60 Smithfield street, where a line of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings is to be found second to none in the city, and where a very genteel suit can be had at a bottom figure.

I am all out of Sorts.

There is a prevalent feeling of langnor, lassitude and debility among all classes at this season of the year, which, though not a disease, yet may terminate in sickness of some form or other, and which occasions the expression "out of sorts." The simplest, best and most efficacious remedy for this disagreeable condition of the physical system is a Turkish or Russian bath, which will impart full life and vigor to the whole system and compel you to say—"I feel like a new creature."

An Address to Merchants and Manufacturers.

The insatiable tooth of time, as well as the march of improvement, demand that old things be made knew, and structures and buildings unfit and uncouth in appearance be remodeled to conform to the requirements of the age. Scarcely an individual possessing a house, or its occupancy, but needs more or less remodeling, refitting and repairing, but is deterred from such change because many carpenters charge as much for a small amount of repairs as to build a house. We are happy to inform all such that Sam'l Wood, Jr., corner of Ninth street and Penn avenue, is a workman of superior skill and ability and one in whom they can rely for the faithful performance of every promise. He uses nothing less than the very best material, employs only skilled and competent workmen and makes but a fair and living price for his services. As you value your pocket, comfort and satisfaction—patronize him.

$1,00 vs. 35 cents.

At the Centennial you pay one dollar for a meal, while a meal every whit as good, carefully and cleanly prepared, can be had at S. T. Niel's Dining Rooms, Lafayette Hall, 63 Wood street, for thirty-five cents. Many are inclined to disbelieve this, thinking that a 35c meal, must be an inferior one, whereas these same meals are equal in every respect to those of more aristocratic establishments at double the price. No extra charges for French Cookery and highfalutin names of dishes served.

Landscape Gardening—Removal.

Mr. James Scott, Landscape Gardner, has removed to No. 241 Western avenue, where he will receive orders for all kinds of Grading, Sodding and Cellar Cementing, Concrete floors of artificial stone and tar walks. Trees and Shrubs furnished and planted in the best manner. Work and Trees warranted. The public will find it to their profit to call on or address John Scott, 241 Western avenue, Allegheny City.

Every Man to His Trade.

Every man is designed for and adapted to some particular station in life, and although Mr. B. Tiegel does not aspire to the control of a nation, yet he can run a Merchant Tailoring establishment with the next man, for proof of which, see his fine and fashionable Spring suitings, his neat fitting suits at low prices, and the smiles, comfort, happiness and gentility of those who wear them. The Iron Market.

[From the Iron Age.]

NEW YORK, April 8, 1875.—American Pig—The state of the market is exceedingly unsatisfactory to producers. The troubles in the coal districts have again assumed a very threatening aspect, and at present Iron is produced at a cost largely above what it was at the beginning of the year, but neither the increased present cost, nor the danger of future stoppage altogether, has had the least effect in either stimulating inquiry or advancing prices. There is extremely little demand, and for this reason the small quantity at present on the market is sufficient to meet all inquiries. We quote No. 1 Foundry, $28; No. 2 Foundry, $26, and Gray Forge, $24@26, at which prices lots of 100 tons have been sold. We hear of no large transactions.

Scotch Pig.—Larger quantities are now coming in, and some of them have been forced on the market at less than the cost of importation for prompt cash. The tendency of the market has been downward, and prices are irregular. We note the sale of 100 tons Coltness from ship at $38; 100 tons at $35,50, and 200 tons on private terms. We quote: Coltness $36@38; Glengarnock $36,50@37, and Eglinton $33@34. Rails.—In Rails we hear considerable inquiry, but no transactions, and we continue our quotations of $45@53 for American at mill. Old Rails.—The only sale we hear of is 150 tons, time and interest. Scrap.—The stock is very small, and firmly held by a few parties. We hear of the sale of 400 tons on private terms. We continue our quotation of $35@37.

A FEW WORDS TO FEEBLE AND DELICATE WOMEN.

BY R. V. PIERCE, M. D., of the WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

Knowing that you are subject to a great amount of suffering, that delicacy on your part has a strong tendency to prolong, and the longer it is neglected the more you have to endure and the more difficult of cure your case becomes, I, as a physician, who is daily consulted by scores of your sex, desire to say to you, that I am constantly meeting with those who have been treated for their ailments for months without being benefited in the least, until they have become perfectly discouraged and have almost made up their minds never to take another dose of medicine, nor be tortured by any further treatment. They had rather die and have their sufferings ended than to live and suffer as they have. They say they are worn out by suffering and are only made worse by treatment. Of anything more discouraging, we certainly cannot conceive, and were there no more successful mode of treating such difficulties than that, the principles of which teach the reducing and depleting of the vital forces of the system, when the indications dictate a treatment directly the reverse of the one adopted for them, their cases would be deplorable indeed. But lady sufferers, there is a better and far more successful plan of treatment for you; one more in harmony with the laws and requirements of your system. A harsh irritating caustic treatment and strong medicines will never cure you. If you would use rational means, such as common sense should dictate to every intelligent lady, take such medicines as embody the very best invigorating tonics and nervines, compounded with special reference to your delicate system. Such a happy combination you will find in my Favorite Prescription which has received the loudest praise from thousands of your sex. Those languid tiresome sensations causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet or ascend a flight of stairs, that continual drain that is sapping from your systems all your former elasticity, and driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces that renders you irritable and fretful, may all be overcome and subdued by a persevering use of that marvelous remedy. Irregularities and obstructions to the proper workings of your systems are relieved by this mild and safe means, while periodical pains, the existence of which is a sure indication of serious disease that should not be neglected, readily yield to it, and if its use is kept up for a reasonable length of time the special cause of these pains is permanently removed. Further light on these subjects may be obtained from my pamphlet on diseases peculiar to your sex, sent on receipt of two stamps. My Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists.

A Tonic of Rare Merit.

There are many tonics, but few indeed which produce any other effect than artificial stimulation of the appetite. This, so far from being a benefit, is a positive detriment, if the digestive organs are weak, because it induces the patient to eat more than the semi-paralyzed stomach can act upon, and aggravates indigestion. There, is however, a tonic which possesses the rare merit of imparting both vigor and regularity to the operations of nutrition. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters provoke a wholesome appetite, because they enable the stomach to dispose of what it receives with such healthful rapidity that at the proper time for meals it is not torpid from indigested matter, but craves its timely sustenance. It is the very fact that it facilitates digestion that renders the national stomachic such a powerful coadjutor of nature in instituting those recuperative processes which result in the recovery of the general health. Uninterrupted, vigorous action of the physical machinery inevitably results from the use of this supreme invigorant and alterative.

MYSTERY SOLVED!

The Great Secret of the Wonderful

SUCCESS OF VEGETINE

It strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I could never breath any more, and VEGETINE has cured me; and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE and I also think it is one of the best medicines for coughs and weak sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

MRS. L. GORE,
Cor. Magazine and Walnut Sts., Cambridge, Mass.

THOUSANDS SPEAK.

VEGETINE is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, January 1, 1874.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have sold at retail 154 1-3 dozen (1852 bottles) of your Vegetine since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours,
AI GILMAN,
468 Broadway.

To H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

VEGETINE

Will Cleanse Scrofula from the System.

HONEST OPINION.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—This is to show that my son was taken sick in January, 1864, with Scrofula, which came out in large sores and ulcers on his leg and hip. His leg was swelled more than twice its natural size He had several doctors of high standing in their profession—two from Boston and three from Charlestown—without getting a bit better. He was obliged to be wherever he was placed, for he had no use of his limbs whatever. When we had given up all hopes of his living we were told to try VEGETINE, the great blood remedy; and he had taken it but a short time before we could see a great change. The sores run so bad that we had to change the cloths four or five times a day. Still, he was getting better; for he could move his limbs and help himself a little. He was soon able to sit up in bed, and, by constant use of VEGETINE, it has cured him. He has a lame leg, which he will probably have for life; but we all honestly believe if we had used VEGETINE before we had bothered with those doctors, it would have saved the use of his leg, and restored it to natural health. I hope all those troubled with scrofula will read this testimony of we and my son, who is now well, and able to speak for himself.

CATHARINE MAHONEY,
DANIEL MAHONEY,
19 Tremont street, Charlestown, Mass.

May 10, 1872.

The above plain but honest statement conclusively shows the quick and thorough cleansing effects of the VEGETINE in Scrofula.

VEGETINE is acknowledged by all classes of people to be the best and most reliable blood purifier in the world.

Vegetine is Sold by all Druggists.
